EMBERS

We play and laugh and disagree --
A clan with many members.
Sometimes we argue, fuss or fight
With flames that die in embers.

Yet still we carry on our game,
And tight the sharing binds us.
Our clan can even closer be
If caring words entwine us.

Last year at West An Tir War an unfortunate incident occurred. A young lady had crafted many fine garden gnomes and fairies and placed them in the path to the river for all to enjoy. A bad person smashed all of her gnomes in an act of juvenile angst. The culprit was dealt with, but the damage was done. Karen Darroux and the Kuro Kaze Tribe organized a fundraiser to replace the destroyed gnomes and faeries. A mighty sum was raised and presented to her at Grand Court. A count of what was raised was not taken but it filled the box presented to her. A challenge was issued at Grand Court to all other households to bring a gnome of their own and place it on the walk to the river as a gift and demonstration of our love and caring for this young girl and her dream. Karen and the landowner have said that this challenge can be expanded to include faerie creatures if you like. This is a reminder that West An Tir war is right around the corner and hopefully everyone is up for the challenge. There really aren't any parameters to this challenge. Present a garden gnome or faerie creature of the usual size; no more than one foot tall. Please remember to limit the number of gnomes to one per household as we don't want to flood this poor girl with more gnomes than she can carry. The Kuro Kaze Tribe of Black Company will be taking up this challenge. This challenge is not for a prize or for competition. We are just doing what we feel is right. All our love to this little lady and her family.

Lash of Black Company

Youth Public House

Greetings, I am Emeludt Trost, from the Barony of Fettburg, deep in the heart of Cynagua. I am still relatively new to the SCA and the mother of five boys. I have a passion for helping. As with anyone in the Society, it took me some time to find my place. I stepped up as Chatelaine so that I could help share the welcoming spirit that I was lucky to receive. Through this I came to realize, that there really wasn't anything tailored towards our teenagers, other than combat related fun. So, with many discussions between Youth Point and the Barony, Youth Public House was born. What is Youth Public House? Many of you know of Youth Point, which is a fun place for our little ones to do amazing historic based crafts, and art projects. Youth Public House is a bit different than that. The focus is more towards the older youth crowd. We offer medieval games, and a place to relax and get to know others. The end goal is to help provide a go to source of information when it comes to the different areas of the SCA. I am in the works to set up a sort of mentoring program to allow these young people a chance to learn different arts as well as an opportunity to get to know some of our amazing Peers. How can you help? I am happily accepting donations. A goal I have is to get a die made for us to have our own coin. We also need supplies to make better versions of games, as well as multiple boards for everyone to be able to use. I also won't turn down people willing to come help teach games and offer their knowledge of the multiple crafts of the SCA. I can be reached on Facebook as Emeludt Trost or at email Emeludt@gmail.com

From the Chatelaine

Greetings Cynagua! Unsure what a Chatelaine is? The Chatelaine is in charge of Newcomers' relations within the SCA. It is my job to welcome new people, help them find their way, and help make them feel at home. Should one desire help finding their local branch, event information, how to learn an art, science, martial skill, or most any information about the SCA, the Chatelaine is here to help you. If I don't know it, I know someone who does, or I will soon! Please feel free and welcomed to ask many questions, I will be glad to help you on your journey into the past for it is both my duty as your Chatelaine and because I thoroughly enjoy doing so.

Are you new? Returning? Want to help folks new to the SCA in Cynagua? Check out the Chatelaine's Page on Cynagua's website here:

https://cynagua.westkingdom.org/wpp/?page_id=279 and our Cynagua Newcomers' Facebook group here:

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/CynaguaNewcomers/> both have a number of resources useful to folks who are new, returning, and/or current members of our society.

I stepped up as Cynagua's Chatelaine a year ago now during Spring Coronet in May 2018 and I am looking for a deputy successor to take on the office in another year's time. As deputy successor, I would be guiding and teaching how to manage the office and other tidbits I've learned along the way, while the deputy successor, would be helping me continue to welcome and enrich folks new to the SCA, so we may continue to help our populous grow and mature.

More specifically as my deputy successor, one would help me keep my head straight organizing newcomer activities during Cynaguan events. Such as helping with Cynagua Newcomers Point during Coronet events, Newcomer meetings, assisting newcomers in person and/or online, and with many other fun shenanigans. Interested, but don't feel up to taking on duties on principality level yet? Come talk to me anyway, your local group may be in need of a chatelaine or I may have a short term project in need of willing folks.

If you are interested, want to know more, or simply wish to help assist, please reach out to me either by email at: chatelaine@cynagua.westkingdom.org, on Facebook at: <https://www.facebook.com/SPMcKee4> or look for me at an event, I will have a belt favor with the Chatelaine's device on it (a white key encompassed by the outline of a white heart on a black background).

From the Arts and Sciences Officer

Hola!

I am THL Agnes berengarii de Girona. Thank you all for giving me the opportunity to serve Cynagua, as your new Arts & Sciences Officer. This year will be exciting, and I hope to really help you to inspire others within our great society. To that end, I am ready to add the competitions for this year. Our theme, as inspired by their Majesties, is going to be “looking forward into our past”. Let’s beautify our encampments and our feast halls through our arts, crafts and skills. Not all our competitions will require documentation, some won’t even require much research, as we try to hide the modern world from our medieval hobby.

Summer Investiture –

Period Summer survival – make items that people in the Medieval/Rennaissance period might use to survive a warm climate. How did Crusaders survive summer in the Middle East? How did the Turks, Arabs and Persians survive? Put your art, craft or skills to work creating these documentable summer survival gear. One-page documentation is recommended. (research papers are welcome, please contact A&S a month ahead of time to arrange judging)

Peri-oid summer encampment/feast survival – Like the above, SCAdians need to survive our summers. Create something that might not be period, but rather doesn’t offend the eyes with modernity. (Note: needs to fit on ¼ of a standard table in a feast hall. Anything larger will need prior intent to the A&S officer, so we can plan with the autocrat)

October Coronet –

Period Winter prep – Winter is coming! (OK, I had to use that!) Anyway, we need to prep our halls and encampments for the chilly winter snows. Using your art, craft or skills create an item that would be used in the Winter months of our period. One-page documentation is recommended. (research papers are welcome, please contact A&S a month ahead of time to arrange judging) Peri-oid winter encampment/feasting - Like the above, SCAdians need to survive the chill of winter. Create something that might not be period, but rather doesn't offend the eyes with or covers the modernity.

Winter Investiture –

As we finish out our year of creating household goods, we now look to our feast gear and hall decorations. Period Feasting – Time to pull at your best! What will be in your hall when the King or Bishop come to dine? Using your skills, arts and crafts, create the accoutrements of luxurious living in the Middle Ages/Renaissance. One-page documentation is recommended. (research papers are welcome, please contact A&S a month ahead of time to arrange judging) Peri-oid feasting – bring your items that you have created to make your feast table and hall spectacular! It doesn't have to be period, just doesn't drag us back into the modern day. (Note: needs to fit on ¼ of a standard table in a feast hall. Anything larger will need prior notice to the A&S officer, so we can plan with the autocrat)

So those are our contests for the coming year. If you have questions please contact THL Agnes, that's me. Again, thank you for supporting our game through your creativity!

Adéu fins que trobem! (That's Catalan for "see y'all later")

From the Copper Spoon Guild

The Copper Spoon Competitions are food and research. You may enter one or both. Share your knowledge and your skill with us.

Cynagua Spring Coronet, May: Herbs

What should I be planting to have a pleasing table or to sooth someone who is ailing? Prepare a dish or drink that highlights an herb, tell if this a medicinal or pleasant use, documentation will help you win. And/OR Write a 1-2 page paper about one herb and why should it have a place in the medieval garden. Sources are required for the paper.

Summer Investiture, July: It's hot – make it cool

Spicy is nice, but what would refresh one after such a dish? Prepare a dish or drink that cleanses the palate or calms the stomach. AND/OR Write a paper about a dish made to cool the blood or especially for hot weather. Sources are required for the paper.

Fall Coronet, November: Harvest Time

Cook a dish that features an item harvested in the fall and tell where in the medieval world this featured item would be most prevalent. Documentation will help you win. AND/OR Write a paper on harvest festival fare that would be found in a specific area. Sources are required for the paper.

We hope to have many tasty things to try and interesting papers to read.

Fallen Comrades

How I weep for thee
My fallen comrades
Lost to thine demons
Who've laid thee so low
Thine minds have turned on thee
The light has gone dark;
The body is cold now;
Thy soul has moved on.
By the warrior spirit called
To protect one and all
And as the soul's sacrifice
Lead to thy final fall
Thy battle long fought
Now is done at long last
Thy weapon and armour
Have been laid to rest
Too weary and wounded
For this life so long.
Thy soul has now gone
To rest with the best.
So weep I must
For this world so dark
For to have lost your light
Is a cost to us all.

Attending a Collegium or A&S Tourney

An SCA collegium is an opportunity to try many new things or learn more about a favorite subject. To facilitate learning a particular art or science, classes are usually arranged in 'tracks'. A series of tracks make up the class schedule. Alas, one can only attend a single class during each class period. There is always a lunch break. Sometimes there is the opportunity to purchase a simple lunch and more rarely, there is a feast afterwards which may require ticket purchase ahead of time.

Here are some suggestions to help you get the most out of the event.

Before the event:

1. Check the class schedule. What classes are you interested in? Is there a class limit and if so, can you sign up before the event? If not, be sure to arrive early to get on the sign-up list.
2. Check the class descriptions. What does a student need to take a particular class? Special tools, materials, a fee? If you have questions about this, NOW is the time to ask the questions. ALWAYS bring a notepad and pen.
3. If there is a fee, don't expect the teacher to make change! Bring a wad of $1 bills. And if a class provides materials at no cost, a small donation is usually gratefully received.
4. Depending on the site, you may need to bring a chair. If in doubt, ask the autocrat what the classrooms will be like. A collegium at a camping event (like the A&S Tourney) usually means you need to bring your own chair, while an indoor collegium usually has tables & chairs for each classroom.

5. If a class will be messy like pottery or If a class requires specific movement like fighting technique or archery, plan to wear appropriate clothes that are easy to move in and won't get in the way.
6. If you will be working with very small tools/materials, bring your best glasses or even something stronger for close up work.
7. If no group lunch is planned be sure to bring food and beverage.
8. If there is a feast, purchase a ticket.

At the event:

1. Show up early to sign up for classes with limited slots.
2. If a class is full, sign up as an alternate and show up; you never know. But have a second class choice just in case.
3. Check the onsite schedule. Changes may have been made!
4. Choose your classes but be sure you have anything required to attend, including exact change for any handout or materials fee.
5. If you've signed up for a class, but changed your mind, do cross your name off the list. Otherwise, show up on time or you might lose your slot.
6. Stay hydrated.

In class:

1. If there is a fee, please pay it with exact change.
2. Be attentive to the teacher. Class time is limited, and you want to learn everything the teacher plans to share. And in a hands-on class, you don't want to waste any of it.

3. Follow instructions. A teacher wants to keep you safe while completing a project and again, time is limited.
4. Do ask questions but don't get into a debate that takes up precious class time. You can always talk with the teacher again later.
5. Offer to assist the teacher in setup/clean up.
6. If you want to learn more, ask for the teacher's contact information. Perhaps the teacher would be willing to do a class for your local group.

After the event:

1. If you took a hands-on class and continued to do the embroidery or make the jewelry or carve the wood, share your efforts with your teacher. It will be an opportunity to learn more and improve. And just as important, they will appreciate seeing their art or science being kept alive in new hands.
2. For any class, reconnecting with a teacher is a chance for more learning and that goes both ways.
3. Share what you learned with your friends!
4. Use your new knowledge and skill and enter an A&S competition!

I've been a student and a teacher for many years. I will never stop learning. When I figure out how to do something new, I want to teach it!

Greeting and Gay Tidings from the West Coast chapter of Clan Blue Feather!

What is Clan Blue Feather, you ask?

We are the LGBTQIAA+ people of the SCA! Blue Feather started many years ago at Pennsic, where their annual Blue Feather Ball is still going strong. Recently, we started chatting with our cousins in An Tir and Caid and decided that we needed some events out west!

Do you want to get involved? We wear dark blue feathers to self-identify and welcome you to do the same! Do you want to show your support? Our allies wear light blue feathers to do just that!

If you'd like to know more, we invite you to join us on the Book of Faces under West Coast Blue Feather. Or you can contact our own talking head here in the West, Damir at damir@westkingdom.org.

~Damir

The Guild of St. Omobono~ West Kingdom Clothiers (<https://www.facebook.com/groups/WKClothiers/>) exists as a friendly open place for clothing/accessory/sewing advice. We may not know everything, but we definitely know something. The guild is open to all levels of sewing skills. We host the Clothier Guild Advice table at all West Kingdom Crown events.

What is the Advice table? It's an open forum where you can ask all those pesky questions you have about medieval clothing. We don't have all the answers, but we can help point you in the right direction.

Questions like:

- I don't know where to start, please help!
- How do I sew garb which won't fall apart?
- I don't like the way {this} worked out on my last {garment}, can you suggest a better way to do this?
- Where can I find more information about {clothing for time/place and plausible patterns}?
- What are the best accessories to add to my medieval impression?

This and much, much more. Come for the questions. Stay for the hanging out and geeking about medieval sewing, costuming and accessories.
